FIRST inspires me to decide on a goal and make a plan for how to complete it. I actually stick to that plan instead of leaving everything until the last minute.

Hello students! I am the Spirit of Gracious Professionalism, or Woodie Flowers, whichever you would prefer to call me.

Oh, hello Dr. Woodie Flowers! Bob here is feeling very discouraged and is lacking inspiration.

I understand that you are feeling like this is a waste of time, but creative activity is one of the few self-rewarding activities. You may feel like it is a waste of time just because of the possibility your team may not win, but that is not the point.

...The way I view competition is not for the sake of destroying one another, but for the sake of bettering and improving both competitors as a result of the competition. You will discover a lot about yourself and others, and you will become a better person as a result of it. Trust me, if you try your best this year, you will definitely not regret it!

I wish you all the best of luck this year! You can do it, Bob! I believe in you!

So, do you feel inspired now?

Yeah, I guess I understand now. I'll try harder from now on.
